

2017 WSF WORLD JUNIOR CHAMPIONSHIPS

- DAILY REPORTS -

DAY 5 – JULY 23RD

Sala's opponent today was Maksymilian Weilgus from Germany. Sala came out in the first game being very patient with his length set ups and then going short, effectively catching the German on his heels. The first game was very good solid squash with Sala taking it 11-5. The sleeping German then woke up. The second game became a battle of hard hitting squash and both players fighting to control the T. The good patient length became to short and the short game that had caught Maksy off guard in the first game was now less effective. After many game balls changing hand, Sala eventually won the second game 19-17. After a much-needed breather, Sala seemed to regain his earlier form as the German seemed to tire and make some errors. Sala took the third, 11-9.

Sala's final match of the tournament will be for 57th place at 12pm Monday July 24th local time. Nothing to be ashamed about for a 14-year-old in his first of what will likely be 4 more Junior World Championships.

It was a Battle of the Borders match today as Andrea took on Emme Leonard of the USA. Andrea feeling confident and relaxed from yesterday's success, started the first game hitting the back corners with solid drives and beautifully placed cross courts lobs. Emme seemed to find the tin a lot and struggled to build any momentum. Andrea won the first two games 11-7. 11-6. In the third game, the momentum did shift as Andrea altered a good game plan and Emme took advantage. It was a close game, but Andrea lost 10-12. The fourth was back to where she started, and Andrea took full control and never looked back winning it easily 11-3. Canada 1 USA 0 for the day.

Andrea is now in the final of the Plate. She will play on the Glass court at 2pm local time (7pm Sunday in Vancouver) and it will be live streamed. Catch the action and cheer her on.
